

HAZEN SUED FOR $850 BY LAWYER

Pay E. Hazen appears to be having difficulty in staying out of the courts. Twenty-four hours after he was given a not guilty verdict on a charge of murder he was named defendant in a suit filed in chancery by Attorney Hugh M. Magney, who seeks to collect $850 which he claims is due as balance fees for defending Hazen in his first two trials for killing Ben R. Simms.

Magney and the late Robert H. Prescott represented Hazen in the first trial which resulted in a hung jury. Magney was chief counsel in the second trial, in which Hazen was convicted, but the conviction was reversed on Magney's appeal to the supreme court. Magney withdrew as counsel there, before the third trial, claiming that Hazen had not met his financial obligation.

Magney's bill alleges that in February, before the third trial of Hazen, he offered to reduce the balance on his fee to $500, with the understanding that this was to be paid in advance. When, he alleges, Hazen failed to pay him the $500, now he seeks the full amount of balance, which he claims is $850. He also seeks judgment for $100 for personal services rendered to Hazen.

In addition to appearing three times as defendant in the criminal court, Hazen was named defendant in a divorce action, just before he killed Simms; and also was named as defendant in a suit for $50,000 damages by the widow of the man he slew. The divorce suit was not pressed here, but a year later Mrs. Frances Hazen, about whom he killed Simms, brought suit for divorce against Hazen in a Nebraska court and obtained a decree.

EDGAR BARS ICE MEN FROM "YELLS"

Commissioner Edgar, of the police and fire department, must have been waked up too early recently by the ice men's yelling in front of his house. He has issued an edict that hereafter the ice man who "hollers" in front of any residence on his delivery route is liable to be pinched by the nearest policeman.

Therefore, if your ice man fails to put any ice in your refrigerator it will be because you failed to hang out your card.

To Meet a Court
Take HAYES HEALING HONEY, etc. adv

FILES NEW SUIT.

A new divorce declaration properly signed by Lee Winthester, divorce proctor, was filed late Thursday by Mrs. Jessie Lee Walton against Dr. J. M. Walton. A bill filed some time ago did not bear the divorce proctor's signature and Chancellor Hieskell dismissed the suit.

Sample Boot Shop's Saturday SPECIALS

Saturday we place on sale several hundred pairs of Low Shoes at a saving of $3 to $4 a pair.

$14 Values; on Sale Saturday—
$10.85

Black Satin, Brown Satin, Dull Kid, Patent Kid, Black Suede, Brown Suede.

Theo Ties; $15.00 Values; on Sale Saturday—
$11.80

Gas And Spark Still Sparkles

Gas and Spark, three months old, still sparkles in the April issue under the editorial direction of Edward Lloyd. Editor Lloyd, it is evident, also has an eye on the financial as well as the editorial end of journalism, for of the 66 pages 28 are devoted to advertising. The magazine is chock full of interesting facts and illustrations with a number of views, including the first illustrations of the city's new garbage collection motorized equipment.

LONE BANDIT ROBS A. T. & S. F. MAIL CAR

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 9.—The mail car of an Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe train, Chicago to Kansas City, was robbed of a bandit between Lexington Junction and Kansas City last night.

The bandit boarded the train at Lexington Junction, which is 20 miles east of here. Entering the mail car four of the five mail clerks lay down on the floor and forced the fifth to bind them. He then bound the fifth himself and proceeded leisurely to rifle the registered mail.

No estimate of the amount obtained is available.

GREAT-GRANDSON OF DAVID CROCKETT DIES

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 9.—John W. Crockett, 66, former secretary of state and former treasurer of Arkansas, died at his home here last night. He was a great-grandson of Davy Crockett, of Alamo fame.

NATURE IS MORE WONDERFUL THAN MYSTERIOUS

THE SIMPLE WAYS OF NATURE BRING REAL RELIEF
THE NATURAL TONIC IS ALWAYS THE BEST TONIC

FERRALINE is a Natural Tonic. It is The Natural Mineral Tonic that is free from all drugs and all uncertain and dangerous chemicals, and because it is compounded in Nature's Great Work Shop, it is prescribed by doctors and used by those who have grown tired of Patent Medicines and alcoholic remedies that only serve to destroy rather than build.

Mrs. E. B. Buckhalter, 6th Ave. North, Birmingham, Ala., says:—

"I suffered for years from rheumatism, headaches and constipation and had constant pains in my limbs, my head ached and I had no appetite. I began the use of FERRALINE because a friend told me about it and in less than a week after I began using Ferraline Tonic my appetite began to improve. The pains have left me, I am free of headaches and the constipation is relieved. Ferraline has done more for me than all medicines I ever used and I want others to know what Ferraline has done for me."

FERRALINE is a Mineral Tonic rich in Iron and other medicinal minerals. It furnishes Red Blood, restores strength, overcomes nervousness, assists the digestive organs and is a great system builder.

With every bottle of Ferraline there is the satisfaction of knowing that only Nature is giving of its best to assist you in regaining health, strength and force.

It is especially desirable in spring and summer to use the little pills that come with every bottle of Ferraline. They will "start you off" right and FERRALINE WILL BUILD AND KEEP YOU GOING.

FERRALINE IS SOLD BY YOUR DRUGGIST. GET A BOTTLE TODAY.

War Veteran Will Speak Upon Trials Serbia Undergoes

Col. William H. Cressey, M.D., who spent three years in the Royal Serbian army, where he won his commission as major, and later was promoted by Prince Regent Alexander to colonel, will lecture on "Heroic Serbia" Friday night at 8 o'clock at Court Avenue church in the interest of Serbian relief. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of dramatic incidents, human pathos and heroic actions, and tells it in his own admirable way.

Latter slides descriptive of the wanton destruction carried on by the enemy found on all sides in Serbia today and detailed photographs telling their story of wrecked human lives are shown by Col. Cressey, who collected many of the pictures himself.

Col. Cressey did not wait for America to get into the fray. Europe before enlisting with the Serbian forces. A specialist in health conditions and in preventive measures, Col. Cressey probably wished to throw in his lot in the fight. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Memphis Protestant Pastors association. Rev. J. J. Thomas, pastor of the Union Avenue Methodist church, is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Col. Cressey is a real American, a son of New England and a citizen of Michigan. He has just returned from Serbia, where he went as medical director for the Serbian relief committee of America, 70 Fifth Avenue, New York city. He took with him 20 physicians and nurses and, having established the camp, has returned with valuable information concerning conditions over there.

He is a forceful, picturesque and interesting personality; he has a story full of